The second episode in the Louis Goldstein, Gerald Milstein automobile and buggy collision was considered Thursday morning in police court, when Goldstein was charged with driving a vehicle not righted properly. In court Wednesday Milstein had been found guilty of reckless driving and fined $25 and costs, with $10 of the costs remitted. Milstein appealed to the superior court.

Goldstein entered a plea of not guilty to the charge against him but was found guilty and fined $10 and costs, the fine being remitted. Goldstein setting for $1.67.

Lieutenant Allan MacArthur, of the police force told of looking over the Goldstein wagon, following the accident. A lantern was hung on the dash board directly back of the horse, and being visible from either direction, they claimed it was lighted.

After the testimony had been heard the court officials went out of doors to

BOOKS
FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Christmas holds a place unique in literature. Small wonder that the giving of Books is so important in the holiday scheme.

More Books are given, perhaps, than any other one thing. To give a Book is to pay a compliment to the recipient's taste and intelligence and is to give a lasting happiness.

THE BOOK DEPARTMENT
is one of the interesting sections during the holiday. The display reveals interesting Books for boys, girls and older folks at prices that will make your dollars go far.

STATIONERY FOR GIFTS
In giving Stationery, the donor has ample opportunity to display his individuality and good taste, since there is as much style in writing paper as there is in everything else. Prices range from 25c a box up.

they found that Harteau had a blue discharge from the service given for fraudulent enlistment, dated in September therefor was not wanted as a deserter from the service. It was believed that Texas military authorities had not been notified of the discharge from the service of Harteau, the discharge having been received at Fort Wright, Kansas.

The local authorities have notified the Texas military authorities that the man wanted was not Vertefeuille and that they have in their possession the discharge given Harteau under the name of Vertefeuille. The discharge stated that Private Vertefeuille, correct name, Joseph Arthur Harteau, was discharged from the service for enlistment with fraudulent age stated.

Deputy Sheriff Addison J. Greenleaf has served notice of an appeal from the decision of the Willimantic Probate Court in the will of the late Henry L. Witter, brought by James M. Witter of Columbia on Charles B. Pomeroy, executor of the estate. He has also mailed notices of the appeal to the heirs of the estate by the will as follows: Martin P. Marble, Plainville, Kansas; Comfort D. Witter, Milldale, Wyoming; Ethel F. Hathrop, Norwich; Lois Parke, Storrs, Colorado; Edwin L. Palmer, Hartford; Ida Marcy, 762 Main street and Louise M. Fay, 656 Main street. The case is returnable before the Willimantic county superior court the first Tuesday in January.

At the meeting of the Willimantic Business Men's association held Thursday morning, it was voted to keep local stores open until 9 p. m. beginning Wednesday evening, Dec. 21. It is believed that four shopping nights will accommodate all Christmas shoppers unable to do their buying during the day.

Both the boys and girls' teams of the Willimantic High school have games scheduled for this (Friday) evening. Their opponents will be the quillites from Stafford Springs. Both local teams have good material and should bring home a win over the visitors.

Joseph Morawitz, of Colchester, was painfully injured and the horse he was driving instantly killed Thursday morning when Morawitz lost control of the animal which plunged against the tender of train No. 1014 which left Colchester at 8:30 o'clock. The smash took place at the first crossing south of Amston. The train was quickly stopped by Engineer V. S. Bennett and Conductor E. E. Damon, and then was run back to the location of the accident. They found the horse lying dead beside the tracks and Morawitz lying beside a demolished wagon, bleeding from cuts about the head. When taken aboard the train Morawitz complained of pains in the left side and was dazed. He was rushed to this city and taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where it was discovered he had severe bruises on the left side of his body and cuts about the head. Morawitz, who is 61, conducts a dairy farm at Colchester, and was making some deliveries. When approaching the track he heard the noise of the approaching train but the horse took fright and he could not hold him back.

St. Mary's school, of Colchester, was built and occupied seven (7) years ago and the registration was approximately four hundred (400), but at the present time the registration is about two hundred sixty (260) and every available space is occupied. One room with six (6) pupils, several with over fifty (50), and it will be impossible to continue the standard of efficiency which has long been this school's pride if conditions are not soon bettered. The committee can see only one solution to this problem and that is an addition to the present building, or a new building attached to the present building at Colchester. The committee feels that it is absolutely necessary that this board give this matter its immediate and most serious attention.

On the South Willimantic School—The condition in the Oaks and South Willimantic schools up to the present time we have been unable to investigate but we will report later on the same. It was voted to continue the committee indefinitely and to bring about the necessary improvements as quickly as possible.

Willimantic police officers, upon following orders of the military authorities of San Antonio, Texas, to find Private Armand J. Vertefeuille, charged with desertion from that post, discovered that the man wanted was not Mr. Vertefeuille but the Joseph Arthur Harteau of this city, who had enlisted in the army under the name of Armand J. Vertefeuille.

When the officers secured their man at St. Joseph's hospital, he leaves.

Says Pile Remedy
Worth $100 a Box

"I have had itching piles ever since my earliest recollection. I am 35 years old and have suffered terribly. I have tried many remedies and doctors, but no cure. About eight weeks ago I saw your ad for Peterson's Ointment. This I tried, and it cured me. I am cured, and I am cured, and I am cured. You have my grateful heartiest thanks, and I am cured, and I am cured, and I am cured. That is worth a hundred dollars or more a box, a trial. Sincerely yours, A. Newth, Columbus, Ohio."

Peterson's Ointment for piles, eczema and skin diseases is only 35 cents a large box at all drug stores. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

JEWETT CITY

Jewett City people are much interested in, and many will attend, at the Strand theatre in Norwich, the famous screen comedy, Oh! Mary Be Careful, by the famous author, George Weston of Plainfield. Seven years ago, upon the invitation of the arrangement committee of Mount Vernon lodge, who were then preparing a program for the annual ladies' night, George Weston came to Jewett City and gave an exceptionally pleasing address, touching upon his work as an author.

After the conclusion of the program Mr. Weston was one of the gallery spectators who enjoyed the attractive features of the dance. He told a Jewett City man later that it was at this time he received the inspiration which caused him to write Oh! Mary Be Careful.

First the story ran in a leading publication, then it appeared in book form and now the attractive narrative appears on the screen. The scene is laid on Black Hill, a few miles above Jewett City, and the characters who will be seen for the first time in no wise fictitious, for they include Fred Briers, John Kingsley, Dr. Chase, Tom Brown, Bill Roodie and Mr. Burckwaser. All through the play are allusions to Jewett City, Plainfield and that locality known as Tadpole.

There were several handsome girls on the floor that night, whose names were the inspiration of the demoniac faith not. Yet it always looked like, and the finger pointed to, one Mary, more attractive than the rest, who later married a Norwich man.

CURVED BY THE COMMUNITY SERVICE COMMITTEE.

Word was received that, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 6th, William R. Pond who is living in New Britain, broke the large bone in his right arm, a little above the wrist joint, while he was cranking an automobile. He was taken to the New Britain hospital where the injury was treated and his arm placed in a plaster cast. He will be obliged to cease his work for the electric company by whom he is employed, although he will be able to look after the affairs at the office.

Word has been received from John C. Pond, a Brooklyn boy, who for a number of years has made his home in Kansas City, Mo., that he will soon be east to visit his brother, Judge T. D. Pond, and other relatives and friends.
